THE INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE OF DERMATOLOGICAL SOCIETIES (ILDS)

“I’ll Be There”

Dear ILDS Members, Friends and Colleagues,

This Congress, the 23RD World Congress of Dermatology, will take place in Vancouver on June 8-13, 2015. We are very excited about the momentum that is building for this Congress, and greatly appreciate all the input that has been provided by ILDS member societies such as yours. The quadrennial WCD is one of the ILDS’s premier events and we would like to build on the successes of the last several Congresses.

The Programme Committee, headed by Jean Bologna, has created an innovative, exciting and appealing programme based on your suggestions, and I am sure everyone will benefit from the plenaries, lectures and symposia that are scheduled.

As ever, it will be an exciting time when new members will be elected to the ILDS Board and, of course, the location of the next World Congress will also be decided in Vancouver.

Yes, I’ll Be There, and I look forward to meeting you all.

With my best personal regards,

Wolfram Sterry, MD
President, ILDS

YOUR INVITATION TO VANCOUVER

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Canadian Dermatology Association (CDA) and the WCD 2015 National Organizing Committee, we are delighted to extend a warm welcome, and invite you to join us in beautiful Vancouver for the 23RD World Congress of Dermatology (23RD WCD) in 2015. The World Congress of Dermatology is the world's oldest and continuous international dermatology meeting and takes place only once every four years. The first Congress in 1889 pre-dated the modern Olympics by seven years, and was last held in North America in 1992.

“The World Congress of Dermatology is the world's oldest, continuous international dermatology meeting and takes place only once every four years.”

The National Organizing Committee, together with the ILDS Scientific Program Committee led by Professor Jean Bolognia, have been working diligently since the closing ceremony of the 22ND WCD in Seoul in 2011 to develop an unparalleled program for the 2015 World Congress. The Scientific Program Committee has committed to bringing global representation to a wide variety of subjects that are core to medical, surgical, and esthetic dermatology. There will be a vast range of special sessions to meet everyone's interests. Young “Rising Star” dermatologists will be showcased in every session.

We hope many of you have or will have the opportunity to experience one of our special WCD Countdown & Preview Symposia held during recent AAD, EADV, and Asian Dermatological Congress meetings. These Preview Symposia have been designed to give delegates a taste of the quality and educational content that you can expect at the WCD in 2015.

Our Canadian reputation for hospitality, friendliness, safety, and efficiency will be extended to all delegates, sponsors, exhibitors, and accompanying persons. Situated against a stunning backdrop of mountains and the sea, the award-winning Vancouver Convention Centre (VCC) will not only serve as one of the most beautiful venues to ever host a World Congress of Dermatology, but also feature the latest technology to ensure that programs are interactive. The VCC, conveniently located within walking distance of the majority of WCD hotel rooms, will be the perfect launching point for delegates to discover this wonderful cosmopolitan city that we call our home.

We look forward to welcoming you in 2015 to A Global Celebration of Dermatology in Vancouver!

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE OF DERMATOLOGICAL SOCIETIES (ILDS) www.ilds.org

The International League of Dermatological Societies (ILDS) is a non-governmental organization with an official relationship to the World Health Organization. It was formed to:

- Stimulate the cooperation of societies of dermatology and societies interested in all fields of cutaneous medicine and biology throughout the world;
- Encourage the worldwide advancement of dermatological education, care and sciences;
- Promote personal and professional relations among the dermatologists of the world;
- Represent dermatology in commissions and international health organizations; and
- Organize the World Congress of Dermatology every four years.

CANADIAN DERMATOLOGY ASSOCIATION (CDA) www.dermatology.ca

The Canadian Dermatology Association (CDA), founded in 1925, represents Canadian dermatologists. The association exists to advance the science and art of medicine and surgery related to the care of the skin, hair and nails; provide continuing professional development for its members; support and advance patient care; provide public education on sun protection and other aspects of skin health; and promote a lifetime of healthier skin, hair and nails.

The Canadian Dermatology Association will celebrate its 90TH anniversary on the occasion of the 23RD World Congress of Dermatology

WCD 2015 PROGRAM

Special keynote presentations and thought-provoking, interactive sessions will provide the focal points for translating knowledge into actions and treatments that dermatologists can provide to their patients. Each day of the Congress will feature a program of distinguished and keynote lecturers, panel discussions, parallel scientific sessions, as well as networked poster sessions. Our Global Celebration of Dermatology will showcase dermatology from five continents in one place.

ILDS AFFILIATE MEETINGS AT THE WORLD CONGRESS – THE “SISTER SOCIETIES”

The ILDS is comprised of over 140 national and international societies, all of whom come together every four years during the World Congress of Dermatology. Special times and meeting space have been set on Monday, June 8th for ILDS Member Societies to host their own half- or full-day meetings.

This will be an ideal opportunity for WCD delegates to go on an international tour of dermatology in one day, and for ILDS societies to highlight the unique work of their dermatologist members to the world.

Confirmed ILDS Member and Affiliated societies* hosting sessions on Monday, June 8, 2015:

- American Academy of Dermatology
- American Society for Dermatologic Surgery
- Asian Academy of Dermatology and Venereology
- Association of Professors of Dermatology
- British Association of Dermatologists
- Canadian Dermatology Association

- Canadian Skin Patient Alliance
- Chinese Society of Dermatology
- Cosmetic Dermatology Society of India
- Dermatology Nurses' Association (DNA)
- European Society for Contact Dermatitis / American Contact Dermatitis Society / International Contact Dermatitis Research Group
- European Society for Dermatology and Psychiatry (ESDaP)
- European Society for Photodermatology and the Photomedicine Society (World Photomedicine Day)
- Gulf Cooperation Council League of Dermatologists (GCCLD)
- Ibero Latin American College of Dermatology (CILAD)
- Indian Association of Dermatologists, Venereologists and Leprologists
- Indian Society of Teledermatology
- International Academy of Cosmetic Dermatology
- International Federation of Pigment Cell Societies (IFPCS)

CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION (CME)

The 23RD WCD is in the process of applying for CME credits to cover 35 to 40 hours of accreditation. To date, over 40 international societies have confirmed they will recognize the WCD 2015 program for CME credits. Please check the WCD website for an up to date list of these accrediting societies and organizations. Official registrants of the WCD will receive a Certificate of Attendance at the Congress.

WCD 2015 CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

Attendees to the 23RD WCD expect that presentations will be based on objective and ethical clinical and scientific evidence, and that they will be free of commercial bias. Diagnostic and treatment methods in dermatology often involve medications, tools, or devices that are commercially available or are in commercial development. The World Congress of Dermatology requires that any person in a position to influence or control content of any WCD activity must disclose all relevant financial relationships with commercial interests. Conflict of interest disclosures will be posted on the website database prior to the WCD in order to promote transparency.

PROGRAM AT A GLANCE (PAGES 8-9)

KEY:

PL — Plenary Lectures

In-depth presentations by world-class clinicians and/or investigators on foundational aspects of dermatology.

SY — Symposia

Comprehensive and broad overview of a dermatologic topic aimed at bringing participants up to date on the current state-of-the-art, including relevant basic science, diagnosis, and management.

WS — Workshops

In-depth interactive sessions on specific disorders and techniques with an emphasis on practical knowledge and outcomes.

CO — Courses

Didactic sessions aimed at participants who wish to gain new knowledge in a field where they may not already be familiar. Basic aspects of the topic are covered in addition to key current breakthroughs and advances. Half- or full-day.

CN — Controversies

Debate-style presentations on challenging issues in dermatology.

FC — Free Communications

Brief proffered presentations (oral or poster) on focused studies, investigations, or observations in dermatology. There will also be special Free Communications sessions for extended presentations by Residents, Registrars, and Fellows in dermatology.

GC — Global Celebration Forums

Specially-themed sessions featuring international experts and rising stars in dermatology. Hosted by the Canadian Dermatology Association.

SP — Sponsored Plenary Symposia

Industry-sponsored symposia on practical and emerging treatments and techniques in dermatology. Sponsored Plenary Symposia are not eligible for CME accreditation.

SA — Concurrent Sponsored Satellite Symposia

Concurrent industry-sponsored symposia on practical and emerging treatments and techniques in dermatology. Sponsored Satellite Symposia are not eligible for CME accreditation.

AM — Ancillary and Affiliate Meetings

Special time and meeting space have been set aside on Monday, June 8th for ILDS Member and Affiliate Societies to host their own half- or full-day meetings. For more information about hosting a society meeting, visit the website to download a request form at derm2015.org or email info@derm2015.org.

Atul Butte, MD, PhD

Division of Systems Medicine,
Department of Pediatrics, Stanford
University School of Medicine (USA)

Presentation: The Bioinformatics
Revolution in Medicine

Atul Butte, MD, PhD is Chief of the Division of Systems Medicine and Associate Professor of Pediatrics, and by courtesy, Medicine and Computer Science, at Stanford University and Lucile Packard Children's Hospital. Dr. Butte trained in Computer Science at Brown University, worked as a software engineer at Apple and Microsoft, received his MD at Brown University, trained in Pediatrics and Pediatric Endocrinology at Children's Hospital Boston, then received his PhD in Health Sciences and Technology from Harvard Medical School and MIT. Dr. Butte is also a founder of Personalis, providing clinical interpretation of whole genome sequences, and NuMedii, finding new uses for drugs. The Butte Laboratory builds and applies tools that convert more than 400 trillion points of molecular, clinical, and epidemiological data — measured by researchers and clinicians over the past decade — into diagnostics, therapeutics, and new insights into disease. Dr. Butte's research has been featured in the New York Times Science Times and the International Herald Tribune (2008), Wall Street Journal (2010 -2012), San Jose Mercury News (2010), and the San Francisco Chronicle (2013). In 2013, Dr. Butte was recognized by the White House as an Open Science Champion of Change for promoting science through publicly available data.

Elaine Fuchs, PhD

Laboratory of Mammalian Cell Biology and Development, Rockefeller University
(USA)

Presentation: Stem Cells in Dermatology

Elaine Fuchs is the Rebecca Lancefield Professor in Mammalian Cell Biology and Development at The Rockefeller University. She is also an Investigator, Howard Hughes Medical Institute. Fuchs has published more than 290 papers and is internationally known for her research in skin biology, its stem cells and its associated human genetic disorders, which include skin cancers. Fuchs' pioneered "reverse genetics," a method of starting with protein and working one's way up to elucidating the genetic basis of the human disorder that is caused by its mutations. Fuchs' current research focuses on the molecular mechanisms underlying how skin stem cells self-renew, maintain and regenerate the epidermis, sweat glands and hair follicles.

Fuchs received her Ph.D. in Biochemistry from Princeton University. After postdoctoral research with Dr. Howard Green at MIT, she joined the faculty at the University of Chicago. She stayed from 1980-2002 until relocating to The Rockefeller University. Fuchs' is the recipient of the Presidential Young Investigator Award, NAS Richard Lounsbery Award, Novartis-Drew Award, Dickson Prize, FASEB Award for Scientific Excellence, Beering Award, National Medal of Science, L'Oreal-UNESCO Award, Madison Medal, Passano Award, Albany Prize in Medicine (with Shinya Yamanaka and James Thompson), March of Dimes Prize in Developmental Biology (with Howard Green), New York Academy of Medicine Medal, Kligman-Frost Leadership Award (Society of Investigative Dermatology), Lifetime Achievement Award (American Skin Foundation) and Pasarow Award for Cancer Research. Fuchs is an elected member of the National Academy of Sciences, Institute of Medicine, American Academy of Arts and Sciences, American Philosophical Society, European Molecular Biology Organization (foreign member) and Academy of the American Association for Cancer Research. She has trained over 25 graduate students and 100 postdoctoral fellows.

Daniel Kastner, MD, PhD

Division of Intramural Research, National Human Genome Research Institute (USA)

Presentation: Autoinflammatory Syndromes and the Skin

Dr. Dan Kastner obtained his A.B. summa cum laude in philosophy from Princeton University and an MD and PhD from Baylor College of Medicine. After completing an Internal Medicine residency and chief residency at Baylor, Dan moved to the NIH in 1985 as a rheumatology fellow. He became a tenure track investigator in the National Institute of Arthritis and Musculoskeletal and Skin Diseases (NIAMS) in 1990, attained tenure in 1995, was named Chief of the Genetics and Genomics Branch in 2001, and was Clinical Director of NIAMS from 2005 to 2010. He is currently the Scientific Director of the Division of Intramural Research of the National Human Genome Research Institute (NHGRI). Dan has won a number of awards and honors. In 2010 he was elected to the National Academy of Sciences, and in 2012 he was elected to the Institute of Medicine of the National Academies.

Based on a chance encounter with a patient with familial Mediterranean fever (FMF), Dan has studied genetic disorders of inflammation at the NIH for over 20 years. In 1992 his lab mapped the gene for FMF to chromosome 16p and subsequently identified the recessively inherited gene by positional cloning.

This gene encodes what was then a novel protein (pyrin) that is the prototype for a motif found in 20 human proteins, several involved in inflammation. Prompted by an Irish patient with an FMF-like illness, Dan's lab discovered that mutations in the p55 TNF receptor cause a dominantly inherited condition they named TRAPS (the TNF receptor-associated periodic syndrome). Stimulated by other patients, Dan's lab has made seminal genetic discoveries that establish three other distinct illnesses as disorders of the IL-1 pathway, thus helping to define the role of IL-1 in human biology and establishing IL-1 inhibitors as effective therapy. More recently his laboratory has utilized genomic approaches in genetically complex disorders, such as rheumatoid arthritis, Behçet's disease, and systemic-onset juvenile idiopathic arthritis. Dan's group also proposed the now widely accepted concept of autoinflammatory disease to denote disorders of innate immunity.

Julio Montaner, MD, FRCPC, FCCP

BC Centre for Excellence in HIV/AIDS,
St. Paul's Hospital (Canada)

Presentation: HIV – Treatment as Prevention

Dr Julio Montaner received his Medical Degree with Honors from the University of Buenos Aires in 1979. In 1981, Dr. Montaner joined the University of British Columbia (UBC) at St Paul's Hospital (SPH) where he completed his training in Internal Medicine and Respiratory Medicine. While still in training, he led several clinical studies that demonstrated the role of adjunctive corticosteroids in PCP-related respiratory failure. In 1988, he became the Director of the AIDS Research Program and the Immunodeficiency Clinic at SPH/UBC. Since then, he focused his research in the development of antiretroviral therapies and management strategies. In the mid 90's, he played a key role in establishing the efficacy of NNRTI based highly active antiretroviral therapy (HAART). He has been a member of the International AIDS Society since 1988, an elected member of the North American Region since 2002 and President from 2008-2010.

Dr. Montaner has authored over 450 scientific publications on HIV/AIDS. His current research interests include HAART as prevention, optimal use of HAART, salvage therapy, new antiretrovirals, as well as hard to reach populations and harm reduction. In 2008, he received the inaugural Avant-Garde Award of $2.5 million over 5 years, from the National Institute on Drug Abuse of the National Institutes of Health (NIH), to support his project entitled "Seek and Treat for Optimal Outcomes and Prevention in HIV & AIDS in IDU (STOP HIV/AIDS)". In 2010, he received a Doctor of Science honoris causa from Simon Fraser University, the Prix Galien Award, the Order of BC as well as the Albert Einstein World of Science Award. In 2012, he was the recipient of the Grand Decoration of Honour for Services to Austria, the Hope is a Vaccine Award from the Global Alliance to Immunize against AIDS, and The Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Medal for contributions to the field of HIV/AIDS.

Patrick Moore, MD, MPH

Department of Molecular Microbiology and Genetics, University of Pittsburgh Cancer Virology Program, Hillman Comprehensive Cancer Institute (USA)

Presentation: HHV8 and Polyomavirus in Dermatology

Patrick S. Moore, is the co-discoverer, together with Yuan Chang, of two of the seven known human cancer viruses: Kaposi's sarcoma herpesvirus (KSHV/HHV8) and Merkel cell polyomavirus (MCPyV). Dr. Moore obtained his undergraduate degree from Westminster College in Utah. After graduate work at Stanford University in biophysical chemistry and a medical degree from the University of Utah, Dr. Moore joined the U.S. Centers for Disease Control (CDC) where he trained as an Epidemic Intelligence Service officer, and worked in the Arboviral Disease Branch of the CDC. Following his work at the CDC, Dr. Moore completed a Preventive Medicine Residency, an MPH from the University of Berkeley, and became Deputy Commissioner/City Epidemiologist of the New York City Health Department. In 1993, he joined the faculty of the Columbia University School of Public Health. In 2002, Dr. Moore moved to the University of Pittsburgh where he holds a Distinguished Professorship in the Department of Molecular Microbiology and Genetics, and is the Director of the Cancer Virology Program at the Hillman Comprehensive Cancer Institute.

Dr. Moore is an elected member of the US National Academy of Sciences (2012), American Academy of Microbiology (2011), and the American Society of Clinical Investigation (2002). He has been the recipient of multiple honors including the Langmuir Prize (CDC – 1989), the Meyenburg Prize for Cancer Research (1997), the Robert Koch Prize for major advances in biomedical sciences (1998), the Charles S. Mott Prize of the General Motors Cancer Research Foundation (2003), and the American Cancer Society Research Professorship (2008).

CLOSING CEREMONY

Saturday, June 13 - 16:00

The Closing Ceremony will conclude a memorable and rewarding week of academic, social and business exchanges.

The Closing Ceremony is open to all delegates, accompanying persons, sponsors and exhibitors.

GUIDELINES FOR ABSTRACT SUBMISSION (FREE COMMUNICATIONS)

Abstract Submission Deadline — September 12, 2014

Acceptance Notification Date — December 15, 2014

Free Communications are brief proffered presentations (oral or poster) on focused studies, investigations, or observations in dermatology, and represent a vital component of the Scientific Program of the World Congress of Dermatology.

All Free Communications abstracts must be submitted online through the WCD Congress website at derm2015.org. Select “Online Abstract Submission” and follow the steps making sure to carefully complete all sections. If all sections are not completed, your abstract submission will NOT be accepted.

1. RULES FOR ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

- A. Authors are required to indicate their preference for either oral or poster presentation by checking the appropriate box on the submission web page. The WCD Free Communications Committee will make the final decision on the format of presentation (i.e. poster or oral).
- B. Acceptance or rejection of abstracts will be based on rankings given by a peer review of experts in the associated topic/category. Results of the selection process will be sent out via e-mail to the corresponding author. The Committee decision is final and cannot be appealed.
- C. Abstracts cannot be identical to any abstract that has previously been presented at a major international meeting prior to the WCD 2015. An update to prior work is acceptable.
- D. Instructions on the preparation of posters and information regarding projection facilities will be included with the notification of acceptance.
- E. Submission of an abstract indicates:
 - (i) that the author(s) agree to comply with the abstract submission and presentation rules,
 - (ii) that the presentation is based on scientific and/or clinical methods that are ethical and valid, and
 - (iii) that all authors have contributed to and approve the abstract and its entire contents.
- F. All accepted abstracts will be published electronically on digital media (e.g. CD-ROM) as well as the WCD 2015 website, and distributed to all delegates.
- G. Accepted abstracts are official communications of the Congress. The presenting author agrees to register, attend the Congress, and present the abstract as scheduled by the WCD. The presenting author MUST REGISTER FOR THE WCD BY MARCH 13, 2015 before the abstract can officially accepted for inclusion in the final scientific program and official Program Book.
- H. Abstracts will be judged for merit according to the following criteria:
 - (i) Scholarly and/or research validity
 - (ii) Educational value
 - (iii) Clarity of presentation
 - (iv) Potential impact on global dermatology

2. INSTRUCTIONS FOR ABSTRACT PREPARATION (Refer to the Abstract sample for specific guidance on formatting)

A. Abstracts must be written and presented in English.

B. Title: Use a concise descriptive title that indicates the content of the abstract. The complete title should be CAPITALIZED. Please minimize the use of abbreviations in the title. Commercial trade names for drugs, devices, products, and services may NOT be used in the title.

Authors: Names and surnames for each author must be provided. Do not include degrees or titles. Presenting authors' names will be underlined and the corresponding author's name will be in bold.

Affiliations: Each author should be listed by department, institution, city, and country.

Keyword(s): A minimum of one (1), and a maximum of three (3) keywords reflecting the contents of the abstract should be provided.

C. Abstracts should not exceed 400 words. Abstracts that are not written in understandable English will be rejected and/or returned to the author(s) for revision. Symbols including superscripts and subscripts can be entered in the online system.

Whenever possible, the body of the abstract text must be formatted with the following sub-headings as appropriate. Each sub-heading should be formatted in bold text, begin on a new line, and followed by a colon and space (:). The text for each sub-section should begin immediately after the colon and space (see sample abstract below).

- Background:
- Objective: (it is acceptable to combine “Background and Objective:” into one heading)
- Methods:
- Results: (the word “Observations:” can be substituted here if more appropriate)
- Conclusions:
- Limitations:

It is NOT satisfactory to simply state that “The results will be discussed.” Only common and standard abbreviations may be used without definition.

Drugs, devices, products, and services should be identified by generic name only within the abstract, with the single exception that the trade or commercial name can be used ONCE in brackets, but only after the generic name, i.e. “generic name (trade name®)”. Data must be given in units (International metric system is preferred) that are generally accepted in scientific publications. NO REFERENCES, TABLES, CHARTS OR IMAGES ARE ALLOWED.

3. ABSTRACT THEMATIC TOPICS

For reviewing and scheduling purposes, abstracts will be classified into thematic areas. Please indicate on the submission webpage the appropriate topic classifications to which your abstract belongs. A maximum of three (3) thematic categories may be chosen. The WCD Free Communications Committee will attempt to respect the authors' choice regarding their self-selection to a specific topic, but reserves the right to change the allocation in order to achieve a well-balanced scientific program.

4. RESIDENTS, REGISTRARS, AND FELLOWS FORUM

The WCD will schedule a special Forum during the Congress to feature extended oral presentations by dermatology residents, registrars, and fellows on basic or clinical research. Individuals will be chosen for this Forum based on the scientific quality and impact of their work as judged by the WCD Free Communications Committee. When submitting your abstract online, select the applicable box if you are a Resident, Registrar, or Fellow and you wish to be considered for this Forum. You may also wish to consider applying for a WCD 2015 Scholarship if you are submitting your abstract for this session.

5. IMPORTANT DEADLINES AND MANDATORY DECLARATIONS

- A. Online Submission will be available on the Congress website. Please follow the instructions detailed on the website. Your abstract submission will be acknowledged automatically by email, but this confirmation does not constitute official acceptance for presentation. FAX SUBMISSIONS WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED.
- B. Statement of Responsibility
- All co-authors must agree with the submitted results and conclusions, and consent to being listed as authors.
 - The abstract must not have been submitted in identical format to any other international meeting.
 - Work involving humans or animals, or material derived from them must have been approved by an institutional ethics committee.
 - All authors must complete a Disclosure of Conflicting Relationships declaration form.

- C. Modifications to the abstract may be made before the online abstract submission system is closed after September 12, 2014, unless the abstract has already been accepted by the WCD Free Communications Committee.
- D. Authors who wish to withdraw their abstract must send a written request to: abstract@derm2015.org.

6. WCD 2015 SCHOLARSHIPS AND ABSTRACT AWARDS

Scholarships will be provided by the WCD 2015 to assist participants from around the world to present their work at the WCD. Scholarships will be awarded on the basis of merit and relative financial need as judged by the WCD 2015 Scholarship and Awards Committee. Please refer to the Scholarship and Awards section of the website for the adjudication criteria. Awards will also be provided to outstanding oral and poster presentations.

7. ACCEPTANCE NOTIFICATION

Authors will be notified by December 15, 2014 as to the acceptance status of their submissions. This includes the assignment of session category and presentation format (oral or poster). Detailed instructions regarding requirements and instructions for oral and poster presentations will also be provided at that time. Abstracts that are meritorious may in some instances be notified for acceptance earlier than December 15, 2014 at the discretion of the WCD Free Communications Committee.

If your abstract is accepted, you must register no later than March 13, 2015. Unless you register by that date, your abstract will not be included in any WCD print or online publications or the official program book.

HLA-B*15:02 and HLA-A*31:01 as genetic markers for carbamazepine-induced hypersensitivity reactions in children [TITLE]

[Contents Body] Use descriptive subtitle headings (i.e. Background, Objective, Methods, Results, Conclusions, Limitations)

Background: The use of the anticonvulsant carbamazepine (CBZ) is limited by the occurrence of hypersensitivity reactions that include drug-induced hypersensitivity syndrome (HSS) and Stevens-Johnson syndrome (SJS). Although rare, HSS and SJS are life-threatening adverse drug reactions with a very high morbidity and mortality. Two genetic variants in the human leukocyte antigen (HLA) region, HLA-B*15:02 and HLA-A*31:01, have been associated with CBZ hypersensitivity in Asian and European patients.

Objective: To replicate the above genetic associations in pediatric patients from North America with a diverse ethnic background.

Methods: We assessed the association of HLA-A*31:01 and HLA-B*15:02 with CBZ hypersensitivity in 42 children with CBZ hypersensitivity, and 91 CBZ-tolerant controls from across Canada. DNA and comprehensive clinical data on the adverse events from all patients were obtained through the Canadian Pharmacogenomics Network for Drug Safety. Genotyping was performed using real-time PCR.

Results: A significant association of HLA-A*31:01 was observed with CBZ-HSS (OR 26.4, $p=0.0025$) and maculopapular exanthema (MPE; OR 8.6, $p=0.0037$), but not for CBZ-SJS. Conversely, HLA-B*15:02 was associated with CBZ-SJS (OR 38.6, $p=0.002$), but not HSS and MPE. Combined, the two risk variants were strong predictors of all CBZ hypersensitivity reactions (OR 8.1, $p=2.6 \times 10^{-4}$).

Conclusions: This study is the first to demonstrate the association of HLA-A*31:01 with CBZ hypersensitivity in pediatric patients, providing important replication of this association. Our results also highlight the importance of this predictive biomarker across ancestries.

WCD 2015 SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The WCD will provide meritorious dermatologists from around the world, regardless of economic background, the opportunity to participate in the educational and networking benefits of the WCD through our scholarship program.

REQUIREMENTS FOR SCHOLARSHIP APPLICANTS

For All Scholarships:

- English language is mandatory
- Applicants must participate in at least one World Congress scientific activity such as an oral communication and/or a poster presentation. Abstracts for oral/poster presentations must be submitted online to the Congress Secretariat by September 12, 2014
- All scholarship applicants who are trainees must submit verification of their educational status, such as a letter from the Department Head or Program Director
- Attendance at the World Congress must not also be supported by industry. (The committee reserves the right to rescind scholarships to awardees whose abstracts and/or attendance were supported by industry)
- Scholarship applicants who are dermatology residents, registrars, or fellows may also wish to consider applying for the “Residents, Registrars, or Fellows Forum” which offers extended oral presentation times. See section 4 of the “Guidelines for Abstract Submission” page 36.

Additional requirements for:

WCD Trainee Scholarship

- An applicant who is in training in dermatology as a residents, registrar, or fellow (medical students are not eligible for scholarships)

WCD Rising Star Scholarship

- A dermatologist under the age of 40 at the time of the World Congress (June 8, 2015) and not at the rank of Full Professor

WCD Dermatologist Scholarship

- Certified dermatologists residing in one of the countries defined by the World Bank as Low income or Lower-Middle income. To view a list of these countries, visit www.derm2015.org

Scholarships will not cover all participant costs. Scholarship amounts will be determined by the WCD, and will be used towards defraying the costs of registration, accommodation, and/or travel expenses. Final scholarship amounts will be based on region of residence and the number of members who are officially registered with the ILDS from each region.

To apply, please check the ‘Yes — WCD Scholarship Program’ button on page 2 of the Online Abstract Submission system.

The application deadline is September 12, 2014.

For additional information, please send an e-mail to scholarship@derm2015.org

The ILDS has long maintained that all dermatologists from around the world should have the opportunity to partake in the educational and relational benefits provided by the WCD.

REGISTRATION

Delegates are strongly encouraged to register online at www.derm2015.org by using Visa, MasterCard or American Express. Please note that the online registration system accepts credit card payments only; if you are paying by USD Bank Draft or Wire Transfer, please complete the Registration Form, at the end of this brochure, and mail or scan it together with your payment (additional fees will apply, see below).

For payments made by credit card, the credit card statement vendor/merchant will be shown as Simply Eventful Management. The statement will show equivalent US dollar fees in the home currency of the registrant.

Registrations received by hard copy form are subject to a US $10 fee. Payments made by wire transfer will also incur a US $15 bank transfer fee.

Fees below are inclusive of any applicable taxes and are quoted in US dollars.

VANCOUVER CONVENTION CENTRE

This spectacular award-winning gathering place will be home of the 23RD World Congress of Dermatology. With its harbourfront location and breathtaking views, the Vancouver Convention Centre (VCC) offers delegates one of the most beautiful settings in the world. At the VCC, you're at the centre of it all with a subway station one block away and over 13,000 quality hotel rooms within safe and easy walking distance.

Fast Facts:

- 43,340 m² (466,500 sq. ft.) of total facility space;
- The only two-time winner of the prestigious International Association of Congress Centres (AIPC) award for 'World's Best Convention Centre' (2002, 2008);
- The VCC has served as the Canada Pavilion during Expo '86 (the World's Fair in 1986), and the International Broadcast Center for the 2010 Winter Olympics.
- The West building has received LEED® (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) Platinum Certification, making the Vancouver Convention Centre the first convention centre in the world to receive the highest LEED® rating;
- Awarded "GO GREEN" certificate from the Building Owners and Managers Association (BOMA) for industry-approved, environmental best practices in building management;
- Greenest convention centre in the world, including a living roof, seawater heating and cooling, on-site water treatment and fish habitat built into the foundation of the West Building;
- A six acre 'living roof', the largest green roof in Canada and the largest non-industrial living roof in North America, features more than 400,000 indigenous plants and four beehives;
- VCC recycles an average of 180,000 kilograms of materials annually, nearly half of the total volume of waste generated.

The Vancouver Convention Centre offers delegates one of the most beautiful settings in the world.

VISITING CANADA

Canada has a well-earned reputation for generous hospitality, public safety, fair business practices, and tolerance for all groups. As with any international travel, WCD delegates will require a valid passport to visit Canada.

VISA REQUIREMENTS

Most delegates will not require a Temporary Resident Visa (TRV) to visit Canada. For those who do, there will be a special WCD Visa Secretariat to help facilitate your visa application by providing a Letter of Invitation. It is important that delegates apply early to allow adequate time for processing TRV applications. This will allow for a smooth, hassle-free process in coming to Vancouver. Applications for TRVs must be directed to the appropriate visa office abroad well in advance of the intended visit and at least six (6) weeks in advance of travel. We recommend submitting your TRV application a minimum of 3 months prior to your departure to Canada.

We are very pleased to advise that processing visa applications for travel to Canada has never been more efficient. Canada now accepts electronic applications which means applicants seeking pre-approval for visitation can send a copy of their passport instead of the original document. Once the application has been approved, delegates will receive instructions for final passport submission and processing. Paper applications are also welcome through visa offices or visa application centres. Visa exemptions for Canada are applicable in 49 countries worldwide.

For more information on visas and for a current list of countries that require visas, please visit our website at www.derm2015.org/visitor-information/entering-canada where you will find Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) and links to the appropriate Government of Canada websites.

LETTER OF INVITATION

Delegates may request a Letter of Invitation from the Congress Secretariat by contacting info@derm2015.org and including your full name, date of birth and company or organization. It is recommended that for those delegates who require a Temporary Resident Visa (TRV) to enter Canada, you include this Letter of Invitation from the WCD along with your TRV Application. Please visit the Congress website under Visitor Information for detailed information on entering Canada.

Canada is known for our people's friendly nature, and Vancouver's citizens take great pride in our friendly, clean, and safe streets.

GENERAL INFORMATION

ATTIRE

Business casual attire is suitable for attending all Congress activities.

BANKING

Regular banking hours in Canada are typically 09:30–16:30 H, Monday to Friday, with extended hours including weekends at some locations. Visitors who wish to cash checks or require other banking services are advised to check times of operation with the institutions. Main branches of Canadian chartered banks, particularly in major centers, are equipped to exchange foreign currency as well. Several major European and foreign banks have offices in Vancouver, and will handle some foreign currencies directly.

Most banks have automatic teller machines (ATMs), which can be accessed 24 hours a day, using bank or credit cards on major international banking networks such as Cirrus, Plus and Interac.

BUSINESS HOURS

Greater Vancouver, like all major international cities, runs 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The main workdays are Monday to Friday, from roughly 08:00–18:00 H — but hours vary for each organization or business. Retailers are usually open seven days a week, and most stores are open from 09:30–18:00 H each day, except Thursday and Friday, when they are open until 21:00 H.

CURRENCY AND CREDIT CARDS

The Canadian Dollar (CAD, $CA) is the official currency in Canada.

We recommend all visitors use Canadian currency when traveling within Canada. Visitors can exchange currency at Canadian chartered banks, trust companies, credit unions, or at offices of foreign exchange brokers, but it is advised to have local currency on hand prior to arriving. Some hotels, merchants, restaurants and suppliers accept US or other foreign currency at a pre-determined rate, which may differ from the daily rate posted by financial institutions. The “penny” or 1 cent coin ($0.01) has been discontinued in Canada, and cash transactions are rounded to the nearest 5 cent ($0.05) value. Credit card transactions will be processed to the exact dollar and cent value.

- Canadian one dollar coin (“loonie”) ($) = 100 cents
- Canadian two dollar coin (“toonie”) ($) = 200 cents
- Notes are in denominations of $100, $50, $20, $10, $5
- Coins are in denominations of $2, $1, $0.25, $0.10, $0.05

Infrastructure in Canada — vending machines, laundry machines, pay phones, public transit ticket machines, parking meters — basically anything where you insert coins or bills — will accept Canadian dollars or coins and, in some cases, credit cards.

All major credit cards are accepted in most hotels, shops and restaurants.

ELECTRICITY

Outlets and voltage (110 volts) are the same as in the United States. Small appliances such as hair dryers, irons, razors, etc. can be used in Canada. For those from other countries, adapters are required for electrical appliances. The frequency of electrical current in Canada is 60 Hz.

LIABILITY DISCLAIMER

The organizers of the WCD cannot be held liable for any hindrance or disruption to the Congress (meeting), in particular if arising from political, social or economic events or any other unforeseen incidents beyond control. The organizers of the WCD accept no liability for any personal injuries or loss or damage to property belonging to Congress (meeting) participants, either during or as a result of the Congress (meeting) or during all tours and events.

CONGRESS CANCELLATION

In the event that the 23RD WCD cannot be held or is postponed due to events beyond the control of the organizers of the WCD, or due to events which are not attributable to unlawful intent or gross negligence of the organizers of the WCD, the organizers cannot be held liable for any damages, costs or losses incurred such as, for transportation costs, accommodation costs, costs for additional orders or financial losses.

PERSONAL INSURANCE

Individual travelers are strongly advised to obtain their own personal health, luggage or other travel insurance; however, regardless of financial status or health care coverage, British Columbia/Vancouver hospitals will not refuse emergency treatment to those who require it. In these situations patients will still eventually be responsible for the cost of their emergency treatments.

SMOKING LAWS

Within the City of Vancouver, smoking is not permitted by law in all indoor public spaces, including public transit, shopping malls, restaurants, pubs, nightclubs and casinos. Smoking is not permitted within six meters of an entryway, openable window or air intake of a building. Signage will be posted to indicate the applicable smoking restrictions.

Please smoke in officially designated areas only.

TAXES AND GRATUITIES

Most purchases in British Columbia are subject to a 7% Provincial Sales Tax (PST)* and a 5% Goods and Services Tax (GST)*, with the exception of liquor (10% GST).

The standard gratuity (tip) in most restaurants is 15–20% of the total bill, before taxes. Gratuities (tips) in Canada are generally expected on services such as restaurants, salon, and taxis.

TIME ZONE

Vancouver is in the Pacific Time Zone (PST), which is GMT -8 hours. During the month of June, Vancouver is on Daylight Savings Time.

WEATHER

Warmed by Pacific Ocean currents and protected by a range of mountains, Vancouver enjoys mild temperatures year-round. June signals the start of summer in Vancouver, with the average high temperature at 21°C / 69°F. The weather is generally sunny, with an average monthly rainfall of 45.2 millimeters.

ABOUT VANCOUVER

The World in a City

Majestic mountains, sparkling ocean vistas, rainforests and beautiful foliage in all four seasons make Vancouver one of the most beautiful cities in the world. Catering to any interest throughout the year, visitors to Vancouver can enjoy world class shopping, gourmet meals, outstanding live entertainment, sporting events, theatre, outdoor adventure and spectacular sights and attractions. Vancouver is located in British Columbia, Canada's westernmost province, and is set between the Pacific Ocean in the west and the magnificent Rocky Mountains in the east.

The population of "Metro Vancouver" is just over two million, of whom 43% have a native first language other than English. The diverse population of downtown Vancouver reflects over 200 different ethnic groups. Multiculturalism is threaded throughout the region in the restaurants, festivals and these unique neighborhoods that make up the Metro Vancouver area. Vancouver is a highly accessible destination.

Vancouver citizens live and work in the downtown core, so no matter what the time of day, the city is alive with people, energy, and excitement. The distance from one end of the downtown core to the other end is only 1.5 kilometres (1 mile); less than half an hour anywhere by foot! Positioned between mountains and ocean, Vancouverites' love of nature is easily indulged with the wide array of activities and world-class attractions. Plan to arrive early and stay late to take advantage of the pre- and post-Congress tours.

Vancouver International Airport (YVR)

Vancouver International Airport (YVR) is Canada's second busiest airport, welcoming over 17 million passengers a year. Over 62 airlines operate out of YVR, connecting people and businesses to over 100 destinations around the world. YVR has been named the best medium-sized airport in North America, the second best airport on the continent and the tenth best in the world. Business travelers have rated it #3 in the world. YVR is easily accessible to Greater Vancouver by public transportation, shuttle, taxi and car.

For detailed information on the airport facilities and transportation, please refer to its website at www.yvr.ca.

Between the airport and downtown, efficient transfer service is readily available by:

- Rapid Transit: The "Canada Line" is Vancouver's subway link connecting YVR to downtown Vancouver in 26 minutes. It's a fast, inexpensive and easy way to get to the city centre. You can conveniently access trains from both the International and Domestic Terminals.
- Taxis: Metered taxi service is located outside of the Domestic and International terminals to downtown Vancouver.
- Downtown bus shuttle: An alternative to access downtown Vancouver hotels is on the Downtown Shuttle service provided by Aeroshuttle. Aeroshuttle provides exclusive shuttle service at Vancouver International Airport (YVR) to downtown hotels. No reservation is required for service from YVR. The service is conveniently located in the Ground Transportation area at both the International and Domestic terminal building.

- Car rentals: Car rental facilities are conveniently located just steps from the terminal on the ground floor of the parkade.

Getting to Vancouver by Car or Rail

Arriving by Car

- I-5 Freeway from the United States (USA).
- Vancouver is 38 km (24 miles) north of the USA border — a 45 minute drive.
- Three-hour drive — 235 km (145 miles) north of Seattle, USA.

Arriving by Rail

- All trains arrive into downtown Vancouver via the Pacific Central Rail Station.
- Destinations across Canada and the Pacific Northwest (e.g. Washington and Oregon states in the USA).
- Serviced by VIA Rail, Amtrak and Rocky Mountain Vacations.
- The journey from Vancouver to Seattle, USA takes four hours.

GETTING AROUND VANCOUVER

WCD Convention Centre — Hotel Shuttle Buses

Complimentary dedicated Convention Centre buses will shuttle delegates between the main downtown hotels and the Vancouver Convention Centre throughout the meeting.

Walking

Vancouver is one of the world's most walkable and scenic cities. A majority of the downtown hotels are located within a 5-30 minute walk from the Vancouver Convention Centre.

SkyTrain, Canada Line, and Buses

The SkyTrain and Canada Line are completely automated commuter rail systems which offer direct and efficient service between downtown Vancouver, Richmond, and suburban environs. SkyTrain and Canada Line stations have elevators and each train is wheelchair accessible. The SkyTrain and Canada Line systems are supported by an extensive network of public buses.

Buses on 78 routes are wheelchair lift equipped or have low-floor buses. The SkyTrain links with buses at most of the stations and connects with the SeaBus in Downtown Vancouver.

SeaBus

The SeaBus is a unique, passenger-only, wheelchair accessible ferry service. It runs from Vancouver's downtown Waterfront SkyTrain station to Lonsdale Quay in North Vancouver. It's the only marine transit system of its kind in the world. The scenic crossing of the Burrard Inlet takes 12 minutes and bicycles are welcome.

Taxis

All taxis in Vancouver are safe, clean, efficient and metered by law. They are equipped with GPS navigation systems.

Wheelchair and Disabled Access

Vancouver is a world leader in providing extensive wheelchair access in "all public buildings and transit."
